EXPERIENCE

US AIR FORCE

Military Police Officer, November 12th, 1991 to September 1st, 2012

Awarded canine military police position at the culmination of 24 weeks basic training and additional intensive, specialized police training. Served as a Military Police officer as an Investigator, recovering assets, and resolving complaints, as well as protecting lives and property, patrolling military bases and preserving law and order (including domestic disputes) at bases in the United States, Europe, Iraq and Afghanistan. Previously supported battlefield operations and provided personal security details during overseas assignment in Iraq (Operation Iraqi Freedom/Enduring Freedom/Operation Odyssey Dawn).

KEY RESULTS

- A successful record for managing complex organizations, supervising hundreds of people through hundreds of line-management personnel, responsible for millions of dollars in assets
- Controlled growth management by motivating and maximizing productivity and employee morale without financial incentives.
- Exceptional leadership led department in earning the 2006 US Air Force Air Mobility Command's "Best Medium Size Security Forces Unit."

- As Training Manager - Participated in the complete revitalization and overhaul of the Air Education Training Command Canine facilities design program from the low status perceived in the 1970's to the most powerful and effective military in history
- Oversaw accountability, security, issuance, receipt and training of explosive training aids at stateside and overseas military installations. Led several semi-annual training aid exchanges, of over 40 explosive training assets. Developed, implemented, and enforced strict inventory protocols resulting in zero asset losses.
- An innovative thinker who excels at adapting to incessant and rapidly changing environments; consistently demands and obtains higher performance standards from people and canines while enhancing productivity during periods of shrinking budgets and excessive personnel cuts.

ACHIEVEMENT, RECOGNITION & AWARD HIGHLIGHTS

- An active participant in the swift, forceful turnaround of the armed forces that led to the US victory in Operation Iraqi Freedom, Enduring Freedom, and Operation Odyssey Dawn. Part of the management team that proved that the military could be managed like a well-tuned corporate machine (same size as Exxon Corp).
- Evaluated and approved housing, shipping and purchasing of over 400 working canines for US Air Force, Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Transportation Security Administration. Responsible for identifying the required search and agility measurements to “meet or exceed” all Department of Defense Military Working Dog and Transportation Security Administration Program standards.
- Managed 15 net ton, $1.1 Million dollar munitions account; organized and led over 80 flawless explosive movements for Explosive Detector Dog training without a single mishap.
- Senior Non-Commissioned Officer of the Quarter, Squadron and Group March - May 2011
- NATO Award, February 2012
- Defense Meritorious Service Medal 2012
